1. Reference concerned the meeting in Berlin between UPHILL's double agent Alias GRAM and his Czech case officer, Jaroslav ANTOS <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 3, in late November 1960 which was followed by a contact in Zurich which took place on 7 January 1961. During a recent discussion we had with @KUTZBACH, he amplified his description of the 7 January contact by stating that the meeting was very brief, and @GRAM claimed that he only received two envelopes; one with 700 DM's (his salary) and the other with a letter from his sister, Erika HOTTIAROVA, who resides in Czechoslovakia. He did not receive new EEI's. 2. The UPHILL counter-surveillance of the meeting was carried out by a man and a woman, and the man was in an upstairs hotel room from which the attached pictures were taken. The woman had a camera concealed in a fur muff, but for unexplained reasons (probably too much muff) none of the pictures she snapped came out. 3. Both GRAM and the UPHILL counter-surveillance team agreed on the following description of the Zurich contact: Born circa 1915 to 1920 About 160-165 cms tall (circa 5'3 1/2") Slim but medium-strong figure (schlank-mittelkraeftig) Round head, full face Thick glasses with dark frames. GRAM stated that the CIS contact spoke German with a Swiss accent, but since UPHILL feels that GRAM may be playing for both Czech intelligence and UPHILL we cannot be certain that this statement is true. GRAM and the UPHILL surveillants described the contact as being of average appearance and of the "kleinbuergerliche" type. Attached are the pictures of the meeting between the Czech IS contact and GRAM. They are exceptionally worthless, and appear almost as though the contact knew he was being photographed. Certainly they will be of no assistance in making any kind of identification and may be destroyed after their amusement value has been served. You will note that UPHILL blotted out the picture of their ace agent GRAM. 4. GRAM travelled to East Berlin and made contact with ANTOS circa 25 February 1961, and at that meeting was told that he should plan to come to East Berlin for several days training in May. He was also told that in the future, meetings would not be held so often. During the discussion of training, ANTOS stated that it would include training in a new S/W system and in radio transmitting and receiving. 5. EE and <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> J: We realize that the scanty physical description provided in paragraph 3 as well as the extremely poor photographs make a possible identification of the individual with whom GRAM came into contact almost impossible, but any ideas you have as to the man's identity would be appreciated.

6. COS/G: We advised UPHILL that we have compiled a photo album of Czech intelligence agents, but that because of the manner in which many of the photographs were obtained we would not be able to give them a list of identities with the album. We noted that possibly the album might be of some value in such cases as Fall MONOGRAM in helping to identify Czech couriers or case officers with whom GRAM or other UPHILL double agents come into contact. UPHILL was most appreciative of the offer, and would like to borrow the album as soon as possible. We note that it was forwarded to COS/G per EGNA 20751, dated 3 March 1961. Although we doubt this will be a particularly productive exercise we would like to have the album shown to GRAM, just on the off chance there might be something worthwhile about this operation.

During a recapitulation of the meeting, UPHILL amplified his description of the contact, stating that the contact was very brief, and GRAM claimed that he only received 700 DM's (his salary) and the other with the contact, alias GOTTLAROVA, who resides in Czechoslovakia.

2. The UPHILL counter-surveillance of the meeting was carried out by a man and a woman, and the man was in an upstairs room from which the attached pictures were taken.
